

Significant impact. Surprising careers

Transcript 2'09''

0'00''

Ashley: Most people think risk and compliance is all about rules.

Angel: I had this view that the company and the organization would be very fast paced, very high pressured.

Busola: I thought I would be surrounded by all of these experts that wouldn't have time for me.

Callum: I couldn't have been more wrong.

Laura: The work we do here has meaning, and it has purpose.

Fraser: We don't just enforce laws. We protect communities and drive forward the UK economy.

Sarah: The projects and the change that I lead is driven by the consumer limiting consumer harm and delivering in public interest.

Ashley: You see the impact that it has, not just financially but also emotionally with people.

Jess: The level of expertise is really high, but people are genuinely kind and approachable.

Taranjeet: The best decisions are when people speak openly, speak their minds, raise their concerns.

Toby: One great thing about working at the FCA is the responsibility that you're given to develop your own career through different pathways.

Fan: The scope and I guess the kind of projects we get involved in are significantly wider range.

Fraser: Having the exposure to so many different areas of financial services and what we do here at the FCA really helped me grow and kick start my career.

Phoebe: I came to the FCA after a career break. I was really well supported.

Sweatha: They do understand that we have commitments outside work and they also support in what we do at work.

Kenneth: To know that you're working in somewhere where people matter is really, really good.

2'09"